RECEIVES PAINFUL CUT.

While cranking his car Sunday morning, Judge J. W. Doremus received quite a painful cut on the muscle of his left arm. In pulling up the crank it slipped and the Judge in some way came in contact with a screw on the lamp to the right of his car. The injury was only slight, but the location makes it quite painful.

NEGRO SHOOT FATHER-IN-LAW.

After considerable argument about a horse which is owned by Lee Richardson and Robert Watson, his son-in-law, Watson took a shotgun and tried to kill Richardson. He shot at his head, but the small bird shot in the gun were not large enough to accomplish his intended purpose. Richardson was hit on the right side of his head, several shot taking effect in his cheek and two or three penetrated the eyeball. The trouble came up about one using the horse more than the other. Watson was arrested and given an examining trial and has been released under a $300 bond to await the action of the grand jury.

FOUR FUNERALS HELD.

Pathetic Scenes at Burial of Victims of Drowning.

Huntsville, Texas, Aug. 15.—Never since the great yellow fever epidemic of 1867 has there been four funerals in Huntsville in one day until Monday, when the four victims of Sunday's tragedy, Ed Berry, his two children, Jewel and Gladys Berry, and Woodie Francis, who were drowned while bathing in Humons creek, were buried.

All business houses were closed and the entire citizenship attended the services at the Francis home at 4 p. m. and at the Berry residence at 5 p. m.

Mrs. Potter of the Methodist church and Mahan of the Baptist church conducted the services at both graves.

The Berry family were all buried in one grave, the father in the center and the little girls on either side. Services were held at the cemetery, as Mrs. Berry requested, on behalf of seven members of her family having been buried recently from the parlor of her residence.

Outward appearances are often misleading. One can seldom tell what is in a man or a mince pie from outward appearances.
